

Kevin Bomberry

July 17, 2001

Dear Employer,

I am a well-rounded individual with more than ten years of hands-on computer experience. With extensive knowledge in digital media production, management and client relations, I can adapt, interact and perform in any situation or environment. My specialty is methodology refinement; to be able to view the process of a given task, function or department and increase the efficiency of said process.

Three key ingredients in my make-up are as follows:

Communication – Train and work with staff, partners and clients to maintain production goals, hardware and software assessment and clients' needs.

Detail Oriented – Excellent organizational skills. Can handle and prioritize multiple tasks.

Team Player - Coordinate and work with team members or other departments to accomplish project goals, work out problems with staff and methodology and to meet project deadlines.

Thank you for your time thus far, and I do hope that you continue on reading more about me here or interactively at <http://resume.bomberry.com>

Sincerely,

Kevin Bomberry

EMPLOYMENT

1997-Present President, Panalta, Inc.

As President and Front End Architect, my rolls are numerous. From customer services and cold calls to creating process documentation, hiring staff and managing contractors, projects and budgets.

Our client list includes Johnson & Johnson, WebTV, Microsoft, GE, SVC and many more small business and individuals. Services for said clients range from Corporate Identity Packages to creating a new department based on a business model and integrating it into the current company structure; complete with SOP, and guidelines.

Projects also include, but are not limited to: media production, web sites, intranets, business literature (print & electronic forms), sales propaganda, marketing media and product production.

1992-1997 Owner, Bomberry Design

In the same manner as above, with less of a focus on corporate accounts or programming.

1994-1996 Production Manager, South Park Digital

Responsible for the day to day organization and running of the business on a customer / production level. Services include, but are not limited to: customer and public relations, digital editing (scanning, layout, design and proofing), digital printing via Fiery XJ300 and trouble-shooting various problems.

1992-1994*MIS Specialist, H & R Macy*s Corp.*

After working with buyers to create a better process of ordering and tracking I took on an advisory/managment role in the redefinition of the MIS Department for Macy*s. I was directly responsible for training 71 buyers and assistants as a department manager and SABER data programmer/analyst. I would also walk the floor checking on departments' product requirements and goals.
